

He's been in there a long time

Dad?

I told you to wait
in the truck

A 3D rendered character, possibly a man, is seated in the driver's seat of a car. He is wearing a red baseball cap with a gold crown emblem and a grey t-shirt. His hands are on the steering wheel. A speech bubble originates from his mouth, containing the text "You should be grateful. I do so much for you". The car's interior, including the seat and dashboard, is visible in a dark, dimly lit environment.

You should be grateful.
I do so much for you

so that when you're grown up, it'll be different

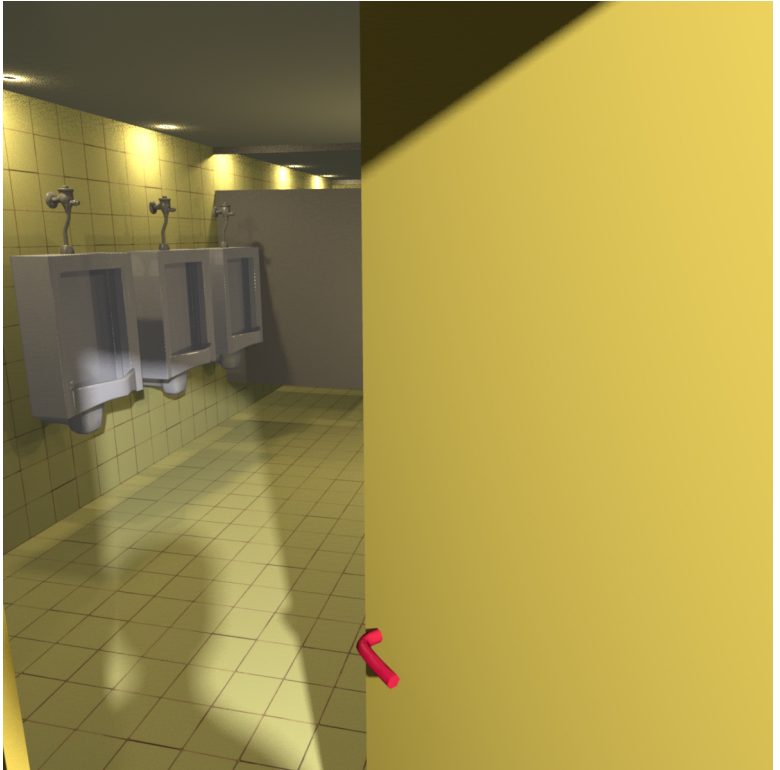

I guess he was right

It is different
